
MEDIA RELEASEMar 10, 2026*CK Public Health Alerts Community to Infection Control Lapse

Chatham-Kent Public Health has identified inadequate equipment disinfection practices at MicroFleek, located at 584 Queen Street in Chatham, Ontario. These concerns apply to services provided between December 1, 2024, and March 6, 2026.

Insufficient infection control procedures may increase the risk of transmitting blood-borne infections, such as HIV or Hepatitis, as well as bacterial or fungal infections of the skin or nails.

Individuals who received services at MicroFleek during the specified timeframe are advised to contact their health care provider to arrange a clinical assessment. Those without a health care provider should visit a walk-in clinic for evaluation.
